POETRY.

From the Knickerbocker.

Yes,-I can bear to see thee now, With quiet lip and placid brow;
Thine eyes may watch me as they will,
They cannot make one heart-string thrill:
I've known thee fickle, known my peace
The sport of thy most cold caprice;
Now sue,—now woo,—I've snapt the chain,—
I cannot be thy slave again,—

There was a time when I for thee Looked with all love's anxiety:
When sitting breathless,—feverish,—mute, I've listened, trembling for thy foot!
Thy presence was as if I quaffed From life's rich fountain a daily draught;
Thy parting dimmed, yet fed the flame,—Now, come or go,—'tis all the same!

Tis over,—I have flung thee off,
With careless heart, and bitter scoff,—
Thou—who didst dare,—fool that thou wert,
To trifle with a trusting heart!
Though thou didst know how deep and true
My feelings were in root and hue.
O, search this world,—a firmer mind,
Or fonder heart, thou wilt not find!

Farewell !-- I cannot mourn the hour That breaks, for aye, thy spell of power:
I cannot mourn, that from such clay
The idol robes are torn away.
If ever blush at feelings weak, For thee, again may tinge my cheek. For very shame that blush would be, That I could dream of loving thee?

OLDEN TIMES.

The Greenfield Gazette publishes the following antique curiosity, in the form of a letter "written," says the Gazette, "in 1722, about the commencement of the Jesuits', or Rolle's war, so called, from the French Jesuits, especially the Jesuit Rolle, having instigated the Indians to commit the hostilities against the English settlers, which led to a declaration of war. Massachusetts and New Hampshire were the principal provinces engaged in this war-their enemies were the Norridgewocks, Penobscots, St Francois, Cape Sable and St John Indians. Many attacks were made by the savages upon the settlers in this quarter, who were obliged to be constantly on the alert. Deerfield and Northfield were then the frontier towns on the Connecticut; a few houses, however, had been built in this place. Col Stoddard, of Northampton, grandfather, we believe, of Solomon Stoddard, Esq., now Clerk of the Court at that place, was entrusted with the defence of this section of the province, and the following seems to be a letter of instructions written by him to Capt Barnard, of Deerfield. We give it verbatim from the original now before us, dated"

Deerf'ld, Aug'st 1-1722.

Capt. Barnard, S'r, I was desirous to have discoursed with the Indians in this Town, but they being absent I have no opportunity, therefore I desire you to let them know that when I am at Boston I shall acquaint the Gov'no struments, Tooth Forceps and Trusses.

JOHN STODDARD.

I am S'r your Humble Servant if any thing remarkable occur before my going to Boston, let me know it.

Wedding Story .- In the Palatinate of Germany there lived a fine young fellow, and only son of a rich nobleman. He paid his addresses to an only daughter of a gentleman, quite as rich as his father. In every particular, the young couple seemed a suitable match. When all due arrangements were adjusted between the parties, the young nobleman politely addressed the damsel's father and requested his daughter in marriage .-The old gentleman instantly refused, to the no small chagrin of the young man. "But why is this denial? what can induce you to withhold your daughter?" says the young fellow "I am," said the father resolved never to marry my daughter to any man whatever, who has no trade." My fortune is sufficient to support your daughter and myself, and if that is not sufficient, surely your daughter's patrimony will amply supply the lack,' replied the suitor. "Our country is liable to be overrun with war," rejoined the nobleman," and property is very insecure. I cannot give my daughter to any but a mechanic." "How long," says the young man, "will you retain your daughter for me to learn a trade?" "As long as you please," replied the father.

The young gentleman apprenticed himself immediately to a basket maker, and in six months returned with perfect specimens of his skill. The nuptials were

But now is seen the sageness of the old mae's advice. A short season only elapsed when war devastated the young man supported in style both his own and father-in-law's family by his basket making.

Country, the property of both families failed, and the young man supported in style both his own and father-in-law's family by his basket making.

Duchess of Orleans .- In Paris the gallery of the theatres, it is well known, is called "le paradis," or paradise. The Duchess of Orleans took a fancy to go to the play one night, with only a fille de cham bre, and to sit in the paradis. A young officer, who happened to be next the duchess, was very free in his addresses to her, and when the play was over, concluded by offering her a supper, which she seemed to accept. He accompanied her down stairs, but was confounded when he saw her attendants and equipage, and heard her name. Recovering, however, his presence of mind, he handed her royal highness into the carriage, bowed in silence, and was preparing to retire, when she called out, "Where is the supper you promised?" He bowed, and replied, "In Paradise we are all equal; but I am not insensible of the profound respect which I owe you, madam, upon earth." This prompt, neat, and proper reply, obtained for him a place in the duchess's carriage, and at her table.

Things I have never seen .- I have never seen such hard times as the present in all my life .- I have never seen old maids decidedly opposed to matrimony .- I have never seen a pretty girl that did not know it .- I have never seen a lawyer refuse a fee on account of his client's poverty.—I have never seen a woman that was tongue-tied.—I have never seen rich men prefer marrying poor girls.—I have never seen but one lady use a bed wrench and pin to tighten her corsets.—I have never seen a woman die with the lockjaw.

PRICE REDUCED. -FEGETABLE EXTRACT This is the most valuable remedy yet discovered for the cure of Threat Distender, or Malignant, Putrid, Ulcerated Sore Threat, Scarlet Fever, Canker Rash, Canker in the Mouth, Threat and Bowels, Diarrhes, Dyssentary, Sore Mouth of nursing women, and Acrid Humors of Teething Children; in short, for almost all the affections of the Mucus membrane of the mouth, throat and alimentary canal. These diseases are acknowledged by all physicians to be of the most severe and obstinate character, and have long baffled their skill and research The discovery therefore of an effectual remedy for them, pa The discovery therefore of an effectual remedy for them, particularly for the various forms of Scarlet Fever, must be considered by every true philanthropist as an invaluable dosideratum. As a common and perfectly safe family medicine, it will be found of inestimable value in cases of common sore throats and colds—disordered state of the stomach and bowels—such as habitual costiveness, indigestion, flatulency, nausea and vomiting. Also, in cases of weakness arising from fever and all debilitating discases, such as consumption, &c; it will be found very beneficial as a cathartic and alterative, as it neither causes debility, nor does it, as is the case with the operation of most medicine, so readily dispose one to take cold. The Vegetable Extract has now been some time before the public, and its great powers justly tested. Hundreds of individuals have successfully tried it, and several eminent physicians are in the almost daily use of it in their practice, who are truly astonished at its great curative qualities, and are ready to give their testimony in favor of its efficiency and are truly astonished at its great curative qualities, and are ready to give their testimony in favor of its efficiency and power. There now remains but one obstacle in the way of its very general use, and that is, the price. The proprietors, being desirous to obviate this difficulty, have therefore determined to reduce the price to 62½ cents per bottle, for one year, which barely remunerates for the great expense of preparing the article; this will bring it within the means of every person, so that no one need suffer for the want of it; and the poor man be able to obtain it for humself and family, as well as the rich be able to obtain it for himself and family, as well as the rich.

PATENT FEATHER DRESSING.—The sub-scriber having the right of Reynolds's Patent Machine for Dressing old and new Feathers, for the State of Massachusetts, and having put it in operation, he is ready to receive or-ders from any who may favor him with a call.

The operation of the machine produces the following effect:

The operation of the machine produces the following effect: new feathers are dried of their excessive moisture and purified of their disagreeable and unpleasant odor. The same results are effected on old feathers, and besides they are restored to their original liveliness, even after they have been long compressed together and rendered exceedingly uncomfortable for repose. They are also thoroughly cleaned of all the dirt, perspiration, and pestiferous gasses, which feathers long used must have imbibed, which cannot be otherwise than injurious to health, and which has never failed to explice the wonder.

to health, and which has never failed to excite the wonder of those who have witnessed the result.

As this is the first machine of the kind ever put in operation in the United States, which has been highly recommended by physicians and others in all places where it has been established, the subscriber feels confident it will receive immediate attention from all lovers of health, comfort and economy. The operation of dressing the feathers is simple and may be witnessed by any who are dispassed to call at the shop, No 102 Cambridge street, where the machine is a received.

Within a few weeks these meetings have been frequent, and their instigators and managers are actively at work disseminating falsehoods, and striving to create wrong prejudices in the community. Some of their misrepresentations we have traced back to their authors, but as it would be a labor for many to contradict them all, and as the designs of these men are mischievous and wicked, we feel it a duty to publicly cantion the public concerning them.

The Democrats in nearly all the large towns in the Union have been subjected to similar evils to those enumerated by the Times; and wherever they exist they are fomented and encouraged by the open enemies of the party. There always will be, in cities containing as large a population as Hartford, more or less individuals among al parties, willing to create dissension for the purpose of gratifying their selfish animosity, or promoting their personal advancement—the people not putting so high an estimation upon their honesty and capability as they modestly think themselves entitled to, immediately declare this insensibility to their exalted merits the result of some foul magic, by which the eyes of every body are sealed when turned toward them-and hence, like their great leader they prefer ruling low to serving high. They are generally composed of disappointed office seekers, men without industry enough to earn an honest livelihood by applying themselves to the occupations which their fathers designed for them, and willing to join any faction or resort to any mean device, to attain what they cannot realize from fair and open exertion. Their shallow schemes, although sometimes annoying, as in the instance alluded to by the Times, are easily detected, and are generally nullified by their inventers. The Times has always been a faithful sentinel upon the watch tower of Democracy, and enjoys, what its fidelity and uncommon ability entitle it to, the confidence of the Democratic party throughout the Nation-and we are confident that, with the influence it is enabled to exercise by its known patriotism, and long devotion to the best interests of the people, it will be enabled, easily, to defeat the sinister designs of those of whom it complains.

The Governor of Michigan, in his Message to the Legislature, thus speaks of Imprisonment for Debt-"The property of a debtor is the legitimate object of pursuit. Create your attachment laws if you please, and let the writ of attachment be the original process, binding the property until bail is given ; but neither before nor after judgment, suffer the body to be taken, except in palpable cases of fraud. Let fraud be clearly defined by law-place it upon your criminal code, and give the accused an impartial trial by a jury of his peers. Permit me then to urge you to blot from your statute book this remnant of barbarity, 'this enslaving instrument of wealth associated with a love of power.'-Abolish imprisonment for debt, and introduce a system of enlightened and liberal legislation, by which the rights and liberties of all classes of society will be prosected, the rich and poor, the high and low-a system by which liberty will rest equally secure in the humble cottage and the princely edifice."

A story has been going the rounds in relation to an alleged assault upon a citizen of Cincinnati, by a Catholic, because the former insisted upon wearing his hat in the presence of the Bishop, during the ceremony of consecrating a new Catholic church. The Catholic Telegraph, published at Cincinnati, after copying the original charge from the Cincinnati Journal, saystives the 'respectable citizen' or the editor of the Cincinnati Journal could have had in presenting it to the public at this late day. More than three months have elapsed since the dedication of the Roman Catholic Church in Fifth street, and yet we never heard of the insulting treatment con-plained of in the Journal before ! We most distinctly deny that any man deserving to be called 'a leading member of the Catholic communion,' was, or could have been, guilty of the outrage in question. The statement appears to us absolutely incredible, inasmuch as hundreds of staunch Catholics were among the crowd, and wore their hats without irreverence, real or imputed, while the ceremony of dedication was taking

Mr Meekins presented an order that a committee be appointed to report resolutions expressive of the views of the House relative to the measures proper to be adopted by the General Government in relation to the laims on France-laid on the table.

Bill concerning limited partnerships was taken up, and a discussion was resumed thereon, which continued during the whole morning. Sundry amendments were proposed and adopted, and the bill was finally passed to a third reading, and ordered to be printed with the amendments.

Mr Calhoun's Project .- Mr Calhoun yesterday brought forward his Report on Executive patronage, in which, by taking the point at which the several systems of expenditure introduced by himself and Mr Clay, commenced their career, and imputing their results to the present President, who has resisted them, has shewn an exorbitant increase. He brought up the multitude of officers hatched in the heat of the high tariff-the multitude of persons employed on public works, and the past has been one of the bitterest and unfairest of the vast outlay on the internal improvement schemes which were commenced in all quarters of the Union-he brought together the outlay on the pension system, ginia .- Eve. Post. which has enrolled 38,000 of a standing army, which the acts of Congress have enlisted, to prey upon the Treasury. These and other immense expenditures, originating with Congress, the fair and honest Machiavel, of South Carolina, sets down to Executive patronage, while every farthing of it was legislative disbursenent, for the most part originating in his own schemes.

Among other things included in his estimate of Executive patronage, and intended to swell the amount of money laid out by the President, is the extinguishing the title of the Indians to lands within the States, and their removal beyond the Mississippi. The money thus expended in making vast acquisitions of territory, and giving more than an equivalent in money to the Treasury, while it gave to the maimed States of the South their full dimensions, wast set down by Mr Calhoun as mere profusion on the part of the President-an increase of Executive patronage!!

After Mr Calhoun had thus exposed what he assumed to be the waste of this Administration, and had laid out his scheme of saving, he undertook to prove that he would be able to find a surplus of nine millions per annum, and this he proposes to divide among the States, and thus take the credit of disposing of this immense imaginary surplus from his own hand. This is Mr Calhoun's bribery bill, and is intended to give him the vantage ground of Mr Clay's largess, his great land bill douceur.

Action .- The Democratic Republican members of the Virginia Legislature held a meeting on Saturday night, and appointed a committee of five, for the purpose of engrafting an address to the people of Virginia, on the present crisis. The finest spirit prevails among them. They do not feel as if they were beaten; on the contrary, they bear a lofty, unterrified, and invinci-ble spirit. They feel that the people are with them, and that the soi-disant Whigs have undone themselves by their recent victories over the freedom of opinion, and the rights of instruction. From whatever quarter we hear, we understand that our political friends mean to do battle, and we cannot entertain the slightest doubt

Rev. O. B. Brown.—The Globe of Tuesday contains an Appeal to the Public from this gentleman, late Chief Clerk in the Post Office Department, in which he reviews the charges and implications brought against him views the charges and implications brought against him by the majority of the Senate Committee, and, in our opinion, successfully vindicates himself from any intentional wrong in the premises, although it is evident from his own statement, that his pecuniary transactions were managed very loosely, and without that scrupulous care in making entries and keeping accounts, which alone could secure him from liability to misapprehension.— N. Accident and Death .- During the false alarm of fire on Friday evening, a man, named Timothy Corcoran, employed on board of the lighter schooner Ranger, lying alongside the ship Harriet, at the end of India wharf, ascended to the main-royal yard of the Harriet, to learn the direction of the fire, from whence he fell to the deck, splitting his chin in two and breaking his back, arms and thigh. He was taken up and conveyed to a cellar in Broad street, where he died at 5 o'clock on Saturday morning .- Briggs.

New Jersey Railroad .- We are informed, says the Newark Daily Advertiser, that cars for the transportation of merchandize between this town and Jersey City have been placed upon the road, and now run regular trips. The number of passengers over this road, we are told, averages from 1500 to 2000 weekly, which with the travelling on the other road, is one-fourth greater than is usual at this season, a conclusive proof of the increasing activity and business of the town.

Mock Sun .- A beautiful phenomenon of this kind appeared in the eastern horizon, on Sunday morning last, conveying all the appearance of two distinct suns at a little distance from each other. CONGRESS.

In the House of Representatives, on Thursday, the order of the day was the bill to regulate the deposite of the public noneys in certain local Banks; and the question thereon was the previous question, moved yesterday by Mr Boon. Mr Graham appealed to the honorable member from Indiana to withdraw his motion for the previous question. Mr Boon said, though he did not wish to be obstinate, he could not withdraw the motion. The discussion on this bill was arresting all the other business of the country, and he thought had already extended to a sufficient length. The question was then taken by tellers, and there were ayes 97, noes 105. So the House refused to second the call for noes 105. So the House refused to second the call for the previous question. RODGERS' IMPERIAL STOCKS.

G Joy's Building, up stairs.

[Opposite the Post Office, Boston.]

VILLIAM H. ROGERS, most respectfully invites the attention of Merchant Tailors and the public generally, to his new invented Imperial Stocks for the Neck, which for ease and elegance very far surpass every thing of the kind hitherto manufactured in this vicinity. They are cut scientifically; the materials and manner of making are quite different from those in common use, and they may be covered many times, and retain exactly the same shape as when first made. W. H. R. requests permission to enumerate the usual faults in the common Stocks, viz: 1st, the very inferior materials used; 2d, their sitting away from the chin and exposing the neck, when disagreeably close at the bottom; 3d, the edge at the top being uncomfortably tight, as to cause a distortion of the features by moving the head; 4th, that of their bulging out at the sides, by moving the head a little downwards, which has a most distasteful appearance. By W. H. Rogers' deservedly admired and extensively patronized invention, all these faults are completely obviated. Naval and military gentlemen will find them the most pleasing and durable. Made to order of any tex ture, by the dozen or single, at the lowest cash prices. Ladies Riding Stocks beautifully made to order.

DURE BEAR'S OIL may be had by the groce, dozen or single bottle, of A. BOYDEN, Hancock-st.

As in all cases, so especially in this, Venders, if they wish to secure the patronage of the public, should be extremely caused to the public of the public secure the patronage of the public, should be extremely cautious not to seil an article for the Hair which tends to counter; act rather than assist nature,

The virtues of Bear's Oil have been too long tested to need any eulogium; and at this time no one can doubt of its being the very best article for strengthening and promoting the growth of the Hair. An honest prejudice against the use of Bear's Oil has long existed, arising from two causes—the improper method of purifying it, and the imposition upon the public of a spurious article. That this prejudice may be wholly removed, this article now offered is warranted the pure Oil, rendered more pleasant by the addition of a little perfume—and the possibility of its injuring the Hair is entirely precluded by the manner in which it has been purified. To prevent fraud, the genuine is enclosed in two wrappers, the inside one being signed Arnold Boyden.

R. CERLIEU'S CELEBRATED OINTMENT—A sovereign remedy for the Sait Rheum, Scald Head, Leprosy and all other Cutaneous complaints. These dreaded diseases, which are met with so much reluctance by the physician and in which he is so universally unsuccessful, have at length found a certain remedy in Dr Cerlieu's Ointment. This article has stood the test of experience and justly gained unexampled celebrity. It has in three or four weeks cured cases of more than thirty years standing, which baffled the art of the most experlenced physicians and resisted the power of every other remedy that could be devised. It immediately removes the scab of the skin, and restores its original color and smoothness. Sold wholesale and retail by ANDREW GEYER, No 104 Hanover street. Price 56 cents per bottle.
